

Values and Principles

We believe that contact with Nature improves and enriches our own life because it is based in moments where action and reflexion join hands.

We explore and venture into the secrets of our own land – the real Algarve and Alentejo. The beauty of our land stretches for miles and includes hills, plains and mountains all with different colours and fragrances, flora and fauna, life and culture and we want to share this and our knowledge with you.

We aim to give people a wider picture on the perception of our landscapes, society and culture, the skill of our handicraft, the flavours of our gastronomy, the history of our castles, houses and mills, and the overwhelming beauty of untouched and unspoilt places.

Our trips are unique experiences. We do not look for easy journeys or smooth paths. We value the learning and development process, always wanting to learn more, understand better and then apply this knowledge to our daily lives in order to correct the balance between effort and accomplishment.

We believe in motivation and persistence to overcome difficulties. We know how to overcome obstacles as turn them into opportunities.

As a team, we build productive and complementary interpersonal relationships. We experience the challenge, and savour the objective encouraging care for others and for the world around us.

We strive to make people more aware of their social and environmental responsibilities.
